We keep hearing about the need for compensation comparison data on Trust and Wealth Management positions. There are many reasons for this need including the need to retain quality people. Unfortunately, many other sources of compensation data are woefully lacking in Trust industry comparisons. As an answer to the above concerns and as a solution to your need, we offer you "CompCompare™".

Are my people appropriately paid?

How should I price a new position or a new incumbent to a position?

How does my salary fit the market place?

For each position, you will receive average and median salary, salary ranges, bonus and incentive data and correlation analysis where appropriate. The report will also present demographically adjusted salary data adjusted to your own market (zip code) using a cost of living adjustment factor.

The price is $725 for the Small Organization (Basic) Report which will encompass eight typical positions in a smaller Trust Organization and $1150 for the Large Organization (Comprehensive) Report which will encompass up to twenty eight positions found in a larger Trust Organization. A report for Independent Trust Companies is also available for $1150 that includes up to twenty nine positions including the CEO position.

If you are a Data Participant – providing your salary information in the Data Collection Phase – there is a $200 discount from the above prices.

Administrative Assistant

Provides administrative support for a Trust officer/group of Trust officers. Can range from an entry level to a senior position. Usually has a great deal of reactive contact with clients. Sometimes operational functions are assigned. Limited decision making authority. Support role ranges from filing to preparing account reviews to joining TO in meetings with clients to handling a large portion of all needs for certain clients, including a great deal of relationship management. There are usually "other duties as assigned". Often has a special function within the department, i.e. account opening or account closing. A senior person in this position might have some supervisory role over other assistants. In some cases a sr. assistant might have accounts assigned "under supervision".

Position and People Pricing Project

CompCompare provides great value but sometime is it not specific enough to meet your needs. We can help evaluate the compensation for certain positions and people within your Organization. This would be a consulting project beyond the CompCompare Report.

Pricing Positions

The purpose of this exercise is often to validate or to consider changing the salary ranges for various positions in your organization. We will request job description data for the positions and will need a discovery conversation with the organizations management to ensure we understand what your position label means and what the “replacement criteria” would be.

The position “pricing” will be based on the job and the criteria you would use to define a replacements background (experience, certifications and education).

Position Report: You will get Salary and Total compensation (with ranges) for each of the positions that we can identify within your organization.

Pricing People

The purpose of this exercise is often to assess the appropriateness of the compensation for the individuals in your organization. We will request bios/resume data on the staff that will be used to estimate the salary/compensation they would command in the market. The data will be entered into the CompCompare database for this purpose. If you are already a data participant this year, you will not need to reenter data.

The people “pricing” will be based on their experience, tenure and education.

People Report: You will get average salary, average performance based variable pay and average bonus amounts. We will also include the range for each metric

Process

We will use our CompCompare data to determine the appropriate compensation for each position and each incumbent. We will use a cost of living data to adjust the data points to your market.

Caveats

We dislike sharing “negatives” but it should be noted that:

- Many organizations have unique positions (hybrid positions) and / or people filling a unique combination of roles that may preclude accurate benchmarking. We will do the best we can to identify comparable positions and people. A list of positions from CompCompare is shown on pages 3 – 6 of this document.
- Our compensation data – like all survey data – is based on INCUMBENT salary. We are very aware of a recruiting premium that might apply to the positions and people in your organization and the cost of recruiting replacements.
